FEATURES & BENEFITS

High Quality Material

Our styrene-butadiene flat rubber sections are vulcanized in a continuous press/cure form, and comparable to a radial tire. This process creates a 64-unit ( $\pm 5$ ) durometer with a tensile strength of 3050 psi.

Unmatched Strength

Two layers of high-performance synthetic cloth provide tensile strength that reduces rips, tears, and premature wear.

No-Hassle Installation

Our flat, sectional rubber blades can be used on sectional plows. Order complete rolls to stock your inventory and be ready to go when snow starts flying.

Multiple Sizes & Custom Lengths

WinterFlex is available in multiple sizes to fit your application. We can also custom cut to your specifications and punch holes for a perfect fit.

Custom cut to your specified lengths, hole or slot punches, and quantities.

PRE-CUT SIZES INCLUDE:

1 1/2" thickness x 10" height
